WEEKLY NOTICES AND REMINDERS

Kia Ora Whanau,

Week 4, and wow it's been another week learning how to be a home learner for us all!

Next week we will hear about Alert Level 2, and what possible changes this may make to school life. I am definitely keen to hear, and fingers are crossed that just maybe, we will all be back together in this space sooner rather than later.

My heartfelt thanks to our teaching team - these outstanding gorgeous people have gone above and beyond, creating incredible learning opportunities for us in a totally different way, overnight. I'm sure you will join me in applauding them and showing our thanks! Super stars!

My thanks also goes to all your amazing caregivers, who have had to learn overnight how to juggle work and also supporting your child's learning - like many of you, I am also doing this - and some days the struggle is real!! I take my hat off to each of you!

Please take time for you - please look after your own needs as a caregiver or parent. Our children need us all to be healthy and well, so that together we can all Rise Above and Shine.

Wow! We have been blown away by the lovely, lovely responses from our amazing community agencies to the letters that have gone out to them. Some of our children have written the most beautifully worded messages of thanks, and we love that they have been received so well.

We are calling for all our students and whanau to build a special kite for our Fly a kite for...Day. Come on, let's get our whole community to build and fly a kite on Friday 8 May 2020 . By doing so, we can all recognise the role our community has played during a unique and historical global event, dedicating our kites to those in our homes, community and nationally who have contributed to our well-being during this time.

Dedicate your kite to a special person, whanau or organisation that has stood out for you over the past 6 weeks, e.g.

- Essential workers
- You parents/caregivers
- Our Government
- Families who have lost a family member
- Those that became ill
- The many that simply followed the lockdown rules
- Local businesses

Take a photo and send to Ms Scott at principal@east.school.nz

Thank You Essential Workers! From Waihi East Room 1 & 2

THANK YOU From Room 5
